INTRODUCTORY NOTE

This publication contains data on average wage and salary rates in Canada on October 1, 1984. Information is presented for 86 communities, the 10 provinces and territories, as well as for all Canada. The tables have been organized by community, in alphabetical order, within provinces, from east to west. Each table shows the number of employees, the average wage rate and average weekly hours for some 50 occupations of office workers, maintenance and service trades and non-production labourers.

The information is based on an annual survey conducted by Labour Canada by means of a mailed questionnaire to establishments with 20 or more employees in industries other than construction and several primary industries.

The occupational titles and descriptions used in the survey were selected from the Canadian Classification and Dictionary of Occupations (CCDO) published by the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission. The term "average rate" as used in this report, is the weighted arithmetic mean of straight-time rates reported to the survey for each occupation. To obtain these averages, each rate reported for an occupation is multiplied (weighted) by the number of employees receiving that rate and the sum of these products is then divided by the total number of employees reported in the occupation. "No of employees" in each table indicates the number of employees for whom wage rates have been reported and is not intended to reflect total employment in that occupation.

Almost 13,000 establishments or 40 percent of the employers surveyed have provided data for inclusion in these preliminary tables. The expected response rate nationally for final publication is between 55 and 60 percent. Users, however, should be aware that the response rate varies according to location, size of establishment and type of industry.

The Canada rates show that wages and salaries have advanced by 3.3 percent during the period October 1983 and 1984. This movement is consistent with estimates from Statistics Canada's Survey of Employment Payrolls and Hours which reports that weekly earnings (for all occupations combined) over the same period increased by 2.8 percent.

Final data from the survey will be published under the title Wage Rate, Salaries and Hours of Labour, October 1984. The final publication will contain more detailed breakdowns of the data including separate information by principal industry groups, for males and females, for employees covered by collective agreements and those not covered, and by size of establishment as measured by the number of employees. Final figures will include revisions to some of the preliminary figures but past experience indicates that changes will not be greater than one or two percentage points at the national level, with the possibility of slightly larger revisions in some local rates.

INTRODUCTION

Cette publication contient des données sur les traitements et les taux de salaire moyens au Canada en date du ler octobre 1984. Les données sont présentées pour 86 collectivités, les 10 provinces et les territoires ainsi que pour l'ensemble du pays. Les tableaux ont été classés par ordre alphabétique des collectivités dans chaque province, de l'est à l'ouest. Chaque tableau indique le nombre d'employés, le taux de salaire moyen ainsi que le nombre moyen d'heures de travail par semaine dans une cinquantaine de professions dans les catégories suivantes: travail de bureau, entretien, services et manoeuvres non affectés à la production.

Les données sont tirées d'une enquête annuelle effectuée par Travail Canada au moyen d'un questionnaire envoyé par la poste. L'enquête porte sur tous les établissements comptant 20 employés ou plus au Canada exception faite du secteur de la construction et de plusieurs industries du secteur primaire.

Les titres et descriptions de professions utilisés dans l'enquête ont été tirés de la Classification canadienne descriptive des professions (C.C.D.P.) publiée par la Commission de l'emploi et de l'immigration du Canada. Le "taux moyen" désigne la moyenne arithmétique pondérée des taux de base déclarés dans chaque profession. Pour obtenir ces moyennes, les taux de traitement payés pour une profession sont multipliés (pondérés) par le nombre d'employés recevant chaque taux, et la somme de ces produits est ensuite divisée par le nombre total d'employés dans la profession. La rubrique "Nombre d'employés" représente les employés dont les taux de traitement ont été portés à notre connaissance; il ne correspond pas au total des personnes employés dans la profession.

Les données incluses dans ces tableaux préliminaires nous ont été fournies par presque 13,000 établissements, soit 40 % des répondants. Nous prévoyons que pour la publication finale la réponse à l'échelle nationale se situera entre 55 et 60 %. Les usagers doivent toutefois être conscient que le taux de réponses présente des variations selon la localité, la grosseur de l'établissement et le genre d'industrie.

Les taux pour l'ensemble du pays indiquent que les salaires et traitements ont augmenté de 3,3 % pour la période d'octobre 1983 à octobre 1984. Cette augmentation est conforme aux estimations de l'Enquête sur l'emploi, la rémunération et les heures de travail de Statistique Canada qui rapporte que les rémunérations hebdomadaires (pour toutes les professions), pour la même période, ont augmentées de 2,8 %.

Les données finales de l'enquête seront publiées sous le titre "Taux de salaire, traitements et heures de travail, octobre 1984". Les données de la publication finale seront plus détaillées et ventilées selon les principaux secteurs d'activité, le sexe, les employés régis et œux non régis par une convention collective et selon la taille de l'établissement (i.e. le nombre d'employés). Les données préliminaires seront revisées en vue de la publication finale, mais l'expérience passé nous indique que les changements se situeront entre un et deux pour cent à l'échelle nationale, avec possibilité d'un plus grand écart pour les taux dans certaines collectivités.

HIGHLIGHTS

Preliminary tabulations based on returns from 13,000 employers show that the average increase in rates of pay for 50 occupations was 3.3% from October 1983 to October 1984. Average hours of work for 30 office occupations was 36.6 hours per week, while the average for 20 maintenance and service trades was 39.6 hours per week. The lowest paid of hourly rated occupations were the security guard at $6.75 per hour and cleaner, light duty at $7.79 per hour. The lowest paid of the weekly rated occupations were file clerk at $285.00 per week and office boy/girl at $285.00 per week. On the other hand, the highest paid of the hourly rated occupations were pipefitter at $14.92 per hour and electrical repairer at $14.51 per hour. The highest paid of the weekly rated occupations were systems analyst, senior $708.00 per week and systems analyst, junior at $612.00 per week.

From the statistics, differentials by region are quite noticeable. For example: The average rate for several office occupations was 16% higher in Vancouver than in Halifax and the average rate for several non-office occupations was 27% higher for the same communities.

Considerable variation exists within each occupation from city to city, due to several factors including; industry mix, size of establishment, degree of unionization and male/female ratios in the work force. These factors cannot be isolated in the present report, but will be available for analysis in final tabulations to be released in June 1985.

FAITS SAILLANTS

Les tableaux préliminaires basés sur les données fournies par 13,000 employeurs montrent que la hausse moyenne des taux de salaire pour 50 professions était de 3,3% d'octobre 1983 à octobre 1984. Le nombre moyen d'heures de travail par semaine était de 36,6 pour les 30 professions de bureau et de 39,6 pour les 20 professions dans le domaine de l'entretien et des services.

Parmi les professions rémunérées à l'heure, celles d'agent de sécurité et de nettoyeur (travaux légers) avaient les taux de salaire les plus bas, soit 6,75$ l'heure et 7,79$ l'heure respectivement. Les professions où le taux de salaire hebdomadaire était le plus bas étaient celles de commis à 285$ par semaine et de garçon/fille de bureau également 285$ par semaine. D'autre part, les professions les mieux rémunérées à l'heure étaient celles de tuyauteur à 14,92$ l'heure et de réparateur électricien à 14,51$ l'heure. Les professions avec le taux de salaire hebdomadaire le plus élevé étaient celles d'analyste de systèmes principal de 708$ par semaine et d'analyste de systèmes subalterne à 612$ par semaine.

Les statistiques indiquent qu'il y a des disparités notables entre les régions. Par exemple, le taux moyen pour plusieurs professions de bureau était de 16% plus élevé à Vancouver qu'à Halifax et le taux moyen de plusieurs professions hors bureau était de 27% plus élevé.

On constate des écarts considérables à l'intérieur d'une même profession d'une ville à l'autre, en raison des facteurs suivants: le genre de secteur d'activité, le taux de syndicalisation et le rapport hommes/femmes dans la main-d'oeuvre. Les données relatives à ces facteurs ne peuvent être dégagées du présent rapport, mais seront disponibles à des fins d'analyse dans les tableaux finals qui doivent être publiés au mois de juin 1985.
